RE: Notice of Delinquency for Campaign Financing Report

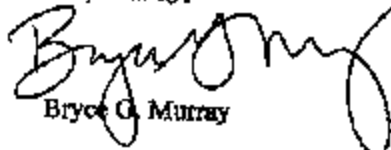

Louisiana Ethics Administration,

Attached please find my candidate affidavit in lieu of report for the report due for "30th day prior to primary". This is my final report due as I withdrew from the election for Jefferson Parish Public School Board, District 4, on July 28, 2010. I was unaware that a report was due and owed regarding my campaign financing once I withdrew since I collected no campaign contributions, paid out no money, and received no loans for the seeking of the District 4 seat. I assumed since my withdrawal was timed with the initial report that no further report was due. I was only made aware of this report being due by receipt of a certified letter today.

Had I been made aware that a report was due when I withdrew from this election, I would have certainly filed it at that time. It seems that coordination between the Secretary of State's office and your office to notify a withdrawing candidate that a final report is due may ease these types of occurrences.

Again, I submitted the initial candidate report during the same period that I was withdrawing from the election, and as such, understood that that was my first and last report required. I would ask that no penalties be assessed since there was innocent confusion on my part that any further report was due, there was no attempt by the Ethics office after I withdrew to notify me that a final report would be due on September 2, 2010, my campaign has no finances to report (collected or expended), and upon notification of a report being due I immediately filed the necessary paperwork.

Respectfully,

Bryce G. Murray
